

Marsh & McLennan Agency Careers

Here at Marsh & McLennan Agency we promote a culture of personal and professional growth and an environment where we ask our colleagues to challenge each other and themselves. We allow for people to bring their whole-self to work. This translates among colleagues, with our clients, and together with care for our families and community. We support flexible work arrangements and provide the technology to enable this. We expect mutual engagement, so colleagues who own their career and performance will thrive and have a real opportunity to craft their career path.

We strive to provide growth opportunities and a platform to jump from with the safety net enabling great rewards and low risk. The biggest risks we ask people to take are to plan for success and engage honestly with a positive and solutions focused attitude. Ask any of us about InsightDiscovery and what our lead color energy is, our Community Connections committees, and our favorite book The Go Giver.

Our ideal candidates have a passion for opportunity and relationships, rather than micromanagement and hierarchy. If you embrace the challenge of change, collaboration and community, then check us out!
